The Great Commandment and Global Poverty in an Interconnected World

How do we respond to such a challenge? Does the Great Commandment empower us or overwhelm us? Through understanding the causes of global poverty as defined in the Millennium Development Goals we will explore how feeding others might feed us.

The Rev. Lisa Caton is the Episcopal Chaplain and adjunct faculty at the College of New Jersey. She teaches a course on the Bible, leads weekly worship as well as meditations groups and is engaged in social justice activities on campus. As chairperson of the Diocesan Millennium Development Goals Task Force, she and the Task Force are committed to educating and promoting action as a way of fulfilling of our baptismal covenant to promote justice and peace among all people. Lisa is the Diocesan Co-Coordinator for Episcopal Relief & Development, serves on the Diocesan Council and is a member of the Diocesan Committee for Lifelong Christian Formation.

Price is $20 per person which include the presentation by The Rev. Lisa Caton and a full breakfast. Pre-purchase of tickets is required. Seating is limited. To register and purchase tickets go to <http://tinyurl.com/3mscve9>
