

Come and See

presented by

The Right Onward Visioning Committee

The Rev. Canon John Sosnowski
Canon to the Ordinary
Right Onward Visioning Committee

The workshop is designed to acquaint attendees with the next step in our vision process, seeking to build upon the foundation established by the 2007 Convention as we look ahead to the future. The Right Onward Visioning Committee is implementing a discernment process assisting all congregations to strengthen their missional identity. This is a lively and affirming process – one strongly endorsed by our Bishop and Diocesan Council.

Part of this process includes a brief 20 minute conversation about missional discernment at every Vestry meeting in March of this year. The conversation will include three questions that will facilitate a time of holy listening.

Attendees of this workshop will be equipped to conduct these conversations at a Vestry meeting of a different congregation than their own.

You will be offered:

- an experiential session providing the background, purpose and goals of this missional program
- key information about your role
- the opportunity to volunteer for these Vestry conversations

We greatly encourage at least one delegate from each congregation to attend.

All are welcome.

Workshops are on Saturday, March 3 at 9:45 a.m. in the Grand Ballroom.
